June Race Meet Should Be Big Boom For Sport

Much Interest Taken in Coming Race Meet on June 10 and 12—Many Horses Now Quartered at Kapiolani Park—Track Now Being Placed in Good Condition—Committee Outlines Rules to Govern All Racing Events of Polo and Racing Assn.

With the June races only one month away interest in the sport of kings is centered now in the runners and harness horses that have arrived for the big event.

Jerry Broderick has brought over three racers from Hawaii and all are now at the polo stables. The horses coming from the Parker ranch are: Sumere, a 3-year-old chestnut filly; Myrtle and a chestnut filly out of Sumptuary.

Work on Track.

R. Duchalsky has charge of the track and is now making preparations to have it in perfect condition for the race meet. A grader will be placed on the track and from now on automobiles will not be allowed in the enclosure. Completion of the railing around the track will soon be announced.

Harold D. J. T. Silva's pacer, is quartered at the city stables at the park, and Lincoln Achleu's Young Lady, which made a good showing on Maui, is also there. Welcome Boy and Harvester are in charge of Cal Leonard at the Tom Hollinger stables.

Polo Stables Busy Place.

The polo stable is a scene of race track talk every hour and at the present there are a number of horses there and more are expected. Among the horses which are stabled there at the present time are: Limestone, Jack Rabbit, Grandma Bess, Kitchin Bill, South Sea, Pualoa, Quick Silver, Gray Dawn, Helen C. In and Out, Koa, Jennie C., Te Tute, Kalulani, Keoki, Indago, Buttons, Kehau and W. R. Halemaumau.

The racing stables, which will be apart from the polo stables, will soon be constructed and 30 stalls will be ready for use next week. The stables are all in charge of Peter Hannon, one of the best conditioners of polo ponies in America.

Advance of Sport.

The Hawaii Polo and Racing Association is taking the right steps to place the sport on a high standard, and with a polo field, a track and other racing necessities the local organization is certain to take a front rank with the other show places of America, and the rules as outlined will give the sport a good support by the general public.

Rules which have been prescribed by the racing committee have met with the approval of the members of the club, many of them being new regulations. All of the races will be run under the rules of the California Jockey Club and the National Hunt and Steeplechase Association.

No Frauds Here.

The racing committee has been given power to inquire into any deal pertaining to racing and may rule off any persons engaged in fraudulent practices. There will be no appeal from its decisions. The committee is also given power to rule off horse, trainer, jockey or owner if good cause is shown and fines may be imposed for infraction of the rules.

All officials will be appointed by the committee and they are given power to exclude from the racing enclosure all persons whose actions are obnoxious or disorderly. The committee requires that all race horses and polo ponies shall be properly registered with the racing committee 10 days prior to a meet. A registration fee of $1 will be charged for each animal, with the exception of horses registered in the American Jockey Club Stud Book.

Jockeys Must Register.

All horses entered in races held under the auspices of the club must enter under the ownership of a member or by nomination of a member. All professional jockeys must be registered with the racing committee at least 10 days prior to a race meet, and furthermore must make application in writing for a permit to ride, the application to be accompanied by a fee of $5.

All apprentices must be registered with the racing committee at least 10 days prior to a race meet, and all will receive a five-pound allowance. All members wishing to ride as amateur riders shall make application in writing to the racing committee, accompanied by a fee of $5.

For Po's Ponies.

In all races exclusively for polo ponies such ponies must be ridden by their owners or by a member of the club, the minimum weight to be carried to be 160 pounds. Polo ponies can only be qualified for these races by having appeared in a polo tournament. In all races for amateur riders the minimum weight shall be 160 pounds. In all races other than amateur races, amateur jockeys will receive a five-pound allowance.

A ruling has been made that in all races, except as otherwise expressly provided, jockeys must ride in proper uniforms, consisting of white breeches, boots and colors of silk and satin. All racing colors must be registered with the racing committee at least 10 days before a race. An annual fee of $1 will be charged for registration of colors, of $10 for life registration.

Encourages Hawaiian Breeds.

Hawaiian-bred horses will be given a five-pound allowance in all free-for-all races and in all races over one-half mile half-bred horses shall receive five pounds allowance. It has been ruled that objections or appeals must be lodged within 15 minutes after the race is run to the clerk of the scales in person.

Gambling or betting upon the outcome of any race will be prohibited and the racing committee has been given authority to expel from the grounds or the club any person or persons detected in gambling or laying wagers on any event.

The average laundress should do well at golf. Her work with the irons would overcome any bad lie.

The foregoing while sliced on the bias is nevertheless well putt.

Did you ever notice how a golfer addresses the ball—especially after missing it?

There's one who cares not when it rains.
Or if the air is chill
To him the weather's aches and pains
Are absolutely nil.

The sun can shine if so it pleases,
Or clouds the sky can veil;
The air can move in gentle breezes,
Or blow a vengeful gale.

To him the kind of day it is
Affects him like the Sphinx,
For he finds fun, i. e. and viz.,
Upon the golfing links.

WOULD COUNT IT.

Two bitter rivals were playing in the final round of a golf tournament and were even on the 18th hole. One of them, a garrulous old gentleman, had talked incessantly during the match, to the great annoyance of his opponent.

"Look here, Hoggatt," burst out the latter, "if you don't stop your infernal chatter I'll crack you over the head with this brassie!"

"All right, Morris, swing away," was the calm response; "but remember this—it's going to cost you a stroke."

MORE ETIQUET.

There is one part of golf etiquette that is not mentioned in the Red Book of the U. S. G. A., but it is so important that it should be ruled against by the executive committee, or state laws passed on the subject. We refer to the Sunday afternoon dinner. No hostess would think of inviting friends to dinner if they knew that by so doing they were depriving their guest from one of their principal joys of life.

Did you ever notice, when the golfer arrives at a Sunday afternoon dinner, that he is nervous, walks around, looks out of doors, smokes another cigarette, and when dinner starts has the appearance of tying himself in his chair, every now and then taking up his knife, as though it were a nibble, and laying it down again. His mind is on the course with a well placed shot.

Invite that same fellow to dinner after 6 o'clock and see what a different companion he makes. That shows that it is a breach of etiquette to invite a golfer to dinner before 6 or 7.

IT SHOULD NEVER BE DONE.

GOLF BY MOONLIGHT.
Golf by moonlight has been tried at Atlanta, Ga., and the "tryers" say it was great. They played nine holes and it took an hour and a half. The balls used were painted with lustrous silver paint and phone like soap bubbles, when they shone at all. Six caddies

JAMES W. JUMP MAY COME HERE WITHIN MONTH

Noted Fisherman in Letter to Friend Believes Big Tuna Will Be Taken in June

That the enthusiasm which James W. Jump of Los Angeles bears for big game fishing has dimmed in no measure from what he displayed while in these islands last winter, is evident from a letter which he has just sent to a friend here.

There is a bare hint in the letter that Jump intends to come back to the islands next month, but it is generally thought here that he will not return before autumn. His letter, in part, is as follows:

"The indications are that we will have fine fishing here this summer. Flying fish have arrived in great numbers and big fish usually follow. Schools of tuna (blue fish) have been sighted, but that isn't any sign that we will get them to strike."

"We have had them here all during the season, and no one is smart enough to grab one."

"Yellowtail are schooling earlier than usual, so are white sea bass, and this means that the season will be good for these varieties."

"Someone had a broad bill swordfish for a couple of hours last week, but as usual didn't land it. These fish weigh from 400 to 800 pounds, and are too heavy for a '24' line. They fight much harder and longer than the marlin, and only one has ever been landed. This one weighed 355 pounds."

"Why don't you and George Cooke take a run down to Kailua about June 1, and get the first 100-pound tuna? The fish will be there and if you don't rush them too much you will surely get them. You must, however, take a big gaff so that you will have at least an even chance with the big fellows."

"Go after the big fellows, as one big tuna of from 150 to 200 pounds is worth more for publicity than 100 little fellows unless, of course, you catch 50 pounds and over on 'nine.'" were used by the two men who played. One caddy carried a lantern and went ahead to stand at the pin when the green was in striking distance. Only seven balls were lost, and of these four were sliced out of bounds into the woods. The caddies spread out over the course each time a player drove off.

Although the war has greatly curtailed play on English golf courses, the game is far from being neglected. The clubs with links within easy reach of the larger cities are still popular, particularly on Saturdays and Sundays. The scarcity of young men for the care of the courses and for caddying is, however, developing problems which are not easily solved and which have led to some novel suggestions.

It has been proposed to use former soldiers who are incapacitated for further fighting as caddies, thus adding to their resources, which in some cases are confined to pensions. Flocks of sheep to be driven from place to place about the course also are suggested as a means of keeping the greens and lawns in shape without the attention of the usual number of caddies.

CHEECHAKOS WIN FROM COSMOS IN EXCITING MATCH

Cellar Inhabitants Make Hard Fight on Y. M. C. A. Bowling Alleys Last Night

The Cheechakos just missed passing the Cosmos for fifth place in the final standings of the Y. M. C. A. senior bowling league last evening. Capt. Atherton's men rallied after losing the first two games and won the third by rolling 826. This saved them from being relegated to the cellar championship.

W. A. Ham upheld the honor of the Star-Bulletin nobly. He averaged 177, which was the best single effort of the evening. J. C. Chamberlain had high game, 189. Most of the bowlers were a little below form.

The remainder of the week will find three struggles for position. The Service and All-Chinese both have their standing at stake tonight and with the Service weakened by the loss of McCutchen and Geoghegan it looks like a real test for second and third places among tonight's contenders and the Honolulu. The latter club bowls the Oahu tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. In the afternoon tomorrow the H. A. C. and P. B. C. will have their last go in the Club League. Last night's scores:

Baseball Booming In Honolulu This Season

Nine Games Will Be Played During Week End on Various Fields in This City—Junior League Will Open Season at Athletic Park on Saturday Afternoon—Oahu Leagues Contests Booked—Interschool and Commercial League Active

BASEBALL PROGRAM FOR WEEK END.

Friday, 3:30 p. m.—St. Louis College vs. Mills School at Athletic Park.
Friday, 3:30 p. m.—McKinley vs. Punahou at Alexander Field.
Saturday, 1:30 p. m.—Braves vs. Chinese at Athletic Park.
Saturday, 3:30 p. m.—Hawais vs. St. Louis at Athletic Park.
Sunday, 9 a. m.—Reach vs. Iron Works at Moiliili Field.
Sunday, 10 a. m.—Filipinos vs. Nippon at Athletic Park.
Sunday, 10:30 a. m.—Service First vs. Mutual Telephone at Moiliili Field.
Sunday, 1:30 p. m.—Chinese vs. Honolulu at Athletic Park.
Sunday, 3:30 p. m.—St. Louis vs. 25th Infantry at Athletic Park.

With the Hawaiian Band to play sweet music between the innings and before the game, and with a large crowd expected at Athletic Park, the Junior Amateur League will start off in a blaze of glory on Saturday afternoon when four teams clash in a double-header.

The field will be placed in good condition for the opening games and two umpires have been secured to handle the contests. Kai Luke and Manuel Phillips, both well-known to the baseball fans, will officiate. Manager Ben Hollinger has secured the services of the band through the courtesy of Mayor Lane and the board of supervisors and the opening will start off with a bang.

A. A. U. Players.

Members of the various teams have secured cards in the A. A. U. and the games will be conducted on an amateur basis. It is expected that the fans of Honolulu will turn out in good numbers on Saturday to give the boys encouragement. They are playing for the love of the game and are to be the future stars in local baseball.

The opening game between the Chinese and Honolulu Braves promises to be a good battle. Manager Ting Chong has lined up the best of the Chinese players for his team and expects to land a victory the first time out. The Braves have a strong team and are expected to be in the fight all season.

In the second game the St. Louis squad will meet the Hawaii, a strong team which has played under the name of the Pawaas for some time. Manager Cushingham has announced that he will call his team the Hawaii as the team is made up of representative Hawaiian players.

A Battle Here.
In the Sunday game the Filipinos and Nippon team will clash in what is expected to be a hard fight throughout. Manager Ocampo will send either Lacerna or Luiz on the mound with Bating behind the bat. Fukushima, who defeated the Wasedas, and Doi will form the battery for the Nippon team.

With the present line-up the league will have teams representing a number of nationalities, Americans, Chinese, Japanese, Hawaiians, Filipinos and Portuguese, the St. Louis team being the only organization that will not represent a nationality.

Double-Header Sunday.
Following the Junior League play the Oahu League will stage a double-header at Athletic Park on Sunday afternoon, beginning at 1:30. In the first game the Honolulu will clash with the Chinese. In the second game the St. Louis team will meet the 25th Infantry squad.

If hope counts for anything, the Honolulu are destined to win from the Chinese, but then again old dope on past games hasn't had much to do with the final result. The Chinese team has met the other teams at the time when the pitchers were going good and as a consequence lost out to the 25th and St. Louis.

More Snap to Play.
The games at the park have been better than was expected when the series was announced and the boys are playing better ball. This is certain to help the game, and the fans will appreciate it. For a time the players were inclined to loaf and the games became uninteresting. From the standpoint of the fan it is not how many errors are made, if they knew that the players are trying all the time. Pareasa has evidently got his Honolulu to realize this, as they have played much better ball in the past month.

St. Louis will make an effort to stop the onrushing 25th Infantry team, and the
